

Reliable Laxative Relieved This Baby

Child Was Badly Constipated Until Mother Tried Simple Remedy

WOODROW WILSON

In spite of every care and attention to diet, children are very apt to become constipated, a condition responsible for many ills in after life unless promptly relieved.

Mrs. C. W. Wilson, of Shelbyville, Tenn., had trouble with her baby-boy, Woodrow, until she heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She writes: "I can safely say that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy of its kind on earth. It acts so gently and yet so surely. Little Woodrow was very badly constipated and we could find nothing that gave relief until we tried your Syrup Pepsin, which gave immediate relief."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from narcotic drugs, mild in action, positive in effect and pleasant to the taste. It has been prescribed by Dr. Caldwell for more than a quarter century and can now be had for fifty cents a bottle in any well-stocked drug store. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 414 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

WILSON LEADS STRAW VOTE

(Detroit Dispatch.)

Detroit, democrats are elated over the result of a straw vote taken by a local newspaper, and are convinced that unless something happens to empty the full dinner pail nobody can beat Wilson in the race for the presidential chair.

In today's count men in business blocks cast 141 votes for Roosevelt, 74 for Wilson and 31 for Hughes. Wilson has a lead over Roosevelt of 126 in grand 126 in a grand total of 15,655. Wilson took the lead when the factory vote began to show its strength.

The tabulated vote to date is as follows: Wilson, 6,468; Roosevelt, 6,342; Hughes, 1,755.

Rheumatism

If you are troubled with chronic or muscular rheumatism give Chamberlain's Liniment a trial. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Obtainable everywhere.

LANDER CLOSES 45TH SESSION

(Special to The Intelligencer.)

Greenwood, May 29.—The forty-fifth commencement of Lander college opened Saturday afternoon with the art exhibit.

The pictures on exhibit showed a year of good work done by the students. There was an unusual amount of water colors and pastels. The charcoal work was exceptionally good, and a number of comments were made on still-life. The attendance was unusually large, and the occasion was highly enjoyed by everyone present.

At a meeting of the two societies—Erosophic and Mathesian—on Saturday night diplomas were given to the graduating class.

Dr. Andrew Sledd, of Emory university, on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock preached the Baccalaureate sermon. The churches of the town called off their usual morning service and a great congregation greeted Dr. Sledd in the chapel at Lander college. Large number of ministers from the city and throughout the state and the trustees were present and occupied seats on the rostrum. The Lyric club gave two beautiful selections, and the Lord's prayer was sung very effectively by the chorus. The following ministers took part in the service: Revs. W. I. Herbert, G. F. Clarkson, Dr. E. J. Smith, Rev. R. A. Young, Dr. P. B. Wells, and Rev. W. P. Meadows.

Dr. Sledd used as his text John 29:30-31. His sermon was pronounced by competent judges as a very effective piece of work. It was characterized by a high order of thought, great earnestness and deep spiritual power. The burden of his message was the new and larger life experienced through faith in Christ. The impact of the personality of Christ upon our personality was impressively and finely brought out.

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock Mrs. R. B. Stackhouse, president of the Woman's Missionary society, of the upper South Carolina conference was the speaker of the occasion. This service is usually held on Sunday night, but this year on account of the fact that the Bailey Military Institute and Lander commencement came together, it was put in the afternoon. In order that the Bailey Military Institute might have the night service. After a delightful selection from the Lyric club and prayer by Rev. L. P. McGee, Mrs. Stackhouse gave a very effective address specially adapted to young women. It was replete with words of wisdom of love and of advice that was highly worth while. It was a great message that Mrs. Stackhouse brought to the young women of Lander college.

The following young ladies receive their diplomas today: Misses Pearl Anderson, Marie Dulle Curry, Jessie Reid Garrison, Mary Payne Lender, Ina May Pitts, Ruth Isabella Meadows, Amanda Elizabeth Patterson, Jennie Lou Martin, Lula Viola Hawkins, Kathleen Alexander, Ruth Matthews Blake, Louise Augusta Lofton, Sara Agnes Bourne, Bessie Marie Patterson, Alleen Hammond, Virginia Aiken Thompson, Edna Catherine Jennings.

The following graduated during the year: Mary Elfreda Carter, Pauline Dominick, Lucille Harvey, Ella Dominguez, Lee, Nora Elizabeth McKeller, Eunice May O'Neal, Myrtle Evans Phillips, Hant Sheridan, Sara Sinis Stuart, Myrtle Sheldor Willis.

"My little girl had eczema on her face so badly that her forehead and all across her nose was a shield of scales and her eye was closed. It came in clear blisters which would spread and itch and burn so much that she would cry and lie awake and keep me awake at night and she was awfully cross."

"Then I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I know it helped her, so I got one case of Cuticura Soap and one of Cuticura Ointment and used them and in a few days she was healed. A month or so later she had a relapse and I sent for another sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and she was cured again."

LEFT HOME NEAR IVA AT 16, RETURNS AFTER 10 YEARS RICH MAN

STORY OF W. H. GILLIAM'S FLIGHT TO MEXICO AND EXPERIENCES READS LIKE
HORATIO ALGER FICTION—A GREENVILLE INTERVIEW

Greenville, S. C., May 29.—Believing there was some truth in Horace Greeley's advice to the young men to "go West," W. H. Gilliam, at the age of 16, packed his grip and set out for the rainbow which he had visioned at the foot of the snow-capped peaks of the Rockies, while rolling about, half-asleep on the greyskin green turf at his home near Iva, in Anderson county.

In his boyish dreams of gold he set out undismayed, a soldier of fortune. His disappearance from home excited his parents. They were alarmed. Day by day passed and still no word from their boy. For Gilliam was alone, thousands of miles away, plodding in the great mining districts of Colorado. As gloomy days extended into years, the parents became almost reconciled to the belief that "W. H." was dead.

Ten years had elapsed, when on one bright day Mr. Gilliam, a grown-up, stalwart man, walked into his home and received the caresses of the dear ones who faintly remembered the striking, clear-cut features of the little fellow in knee pants who had run off from the parental roof a decade since.

Owens Large Copper Mine. Mr. Gilliam was probably one in a thousand who had made good under such circumstances, Horatio Alger stories to the contrary. For there are few instances where a boy takes a long chance like that is ever able to return as Mr. Gilliam did—the owner of valuable mining interests in Mexico.

Mr. Gilliam left the state of Sonora about two years ago when revolutions loomed large on the horizon. He still owns a big copper mine in Sonora and as soon as peace is established in the southern republic he hopes to return. This will happen in a few months, he believes.

Mr. Gilliam is now visiting in Greenville. He talked most interestingly of conditions in Mexico. He says the better class of the Mexican population are in sympathy with the United States government's intention to establish a permanent government in Sonora, where he lived, and that the Maderistas and other wealthy Mexicans who own large domains in Sonora and Chihuahua, seemed to be in favor of intervention, though they dare not express themselves publicly as they would endanger themselves at the hands of the Maderistas.

Sonora, he said, has never suffered severely under any attack of the Villistas, as the state is well fortified and is almost impregnable to attack, being situated at the foot of the Sierra Madre. He says there are small bands constantly forming there, but these seldom amount to anything. The government has had considerable difficulty in combating the smugglers, he averred. He says the Mexicans usually engaged in this violation, but buy ammunition very cheaply on the American side of the border as compared with the price paid for it in Mexico and that this difference offers a great temptation to the lovely people who will do anything for the money there is to be had.

No Japanese Officers.

Mr. Gilliam does not believe that the Japanese are assuming control of the armies in Mexico. He says this is based on pretty erroneous newspaper reports. He cited instances of uprisings against the Japanese and Chinese. There is friction between the races because the Mexicans contend the Chinese and Japanese are enabled to sell goods cheaper than the Mexicans can buy them and for this reason their enterprises prosper.

Great Opportunity.

Mr. Gilliam says there will be a great opportunity for young men in Mexico as soon as the trouble subsides. He says most of the Mexicans have the greatest respect for American integrity and prefer to work under their supervision. The only thing that causes any enmity or frictions is the marked difference in the wages paid to an American laborer and a Mexican.

He says the Canadian copper mines employ about 20,000 men and he is informed that the management has had considerable difficulty in keeping that many hands. His mine is now being operated only on a small scale.

Mr. Gilliam expects to return to Mexico within a few months.

Columbia College.

Columbia, May 29.—Before an audience that filled the college auditorium to its capacity, the Rev. E. S. Trumbull, D. D. of Sumner, yesterday preached one of the most thoughtful and inspiring baccalaureate sermons that has been heard at Columbia college in years. The exercises began with the professional played by Dr. Barnshaw, during which the senior class filed in. The opening prayer was made by the Rev. E. O. Watson, D. D., president of the board of trustees, after which there was an anthem by the choral club.

After the reading of the scripture lesson by the Rev. J. E. Mahaffey of Hagerburg, Miss Faith Laborde sang a solo, "Oh Dry Thine Tears."

SPLENDID COMPANY IS AT THE PALMETTO

Shows Yesterday Afternoon And Evening Were Very Pleasing
—Is Different

Playing a bill entitled "The Wrong Mr. Corbett," Eddie B. Collins with his "Follies of Broadway," delighted large audiences at the Palmetto yesterday. The show was one of the cleverest seen in Anderson recently and was deserving of the applause and praise it received.

Eddie Collins was playing the comedy role and he is amply suited for it, putting on something new. His make-up and expression were enough for several hearty laughs. He is decidedly one of the best comedians which has ever appeared on the local stage.

Jack Miller and Miss Davis, in their singing and dancing specialty, were warmly received. Both are well remembered in Anderson since they were here a few weeks ago. Their dancing was very good.

Miss Bessie Jones, soubrette, very cleverly enacted the part usually played by Miss Florence Willmot. She became very popular as soon as the curtain arose and her songs and dances and her acting added greatly to the pleasing success of the performance.

Aiding and abetting in the fun-making was Misses Doris Cater, Evelyn Field, Peggy Moore, Ada Miller, and Clementine Jones, who composed the chorus. Mr. Harry Fitzgerald, another member of the company, is playing straight man.

The show as a whole was very good. The Palmetto has been closed for the past week and it seems that the manager has secured one of the best tabs for his patrons this week.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give

Are You Wasting The Price Of a Titan Engine?

TITAN engines run on kerosene.
Average cost of gasoline so far this year,
16.9 cents per gallon.

Average cost of kerosene 7.7 cents per gallon.
Gasoline costs over 100 per cent more than kerosene. Gasoline is going up steadily. Kerosene is not.

At present fuel prices Titan engines, using kerosene, save their owners about 1.1 cents per horse power per hour.

Are you running a gasoline engine? What horse power is it? Figure what you'd be saving if you had a Titan kerosene engine. Rather surprising, isn't it? How long would it take that saving to pay for a Titan engine of the same size?
